Tips for a safe and enjoyable road trip

Whether it's seeking the tropical sun in North Queensland or snow-capped mountains in the south, adventure is always on the agenda. Before packing the family into the 4WD or campervan, there are a few considerations to help ensure a safe and smooth journey.

Prepare the vehicle for long distance driving, including checking tyre tread, tyre pressure and carrying a 'just in case' spare tyre on board. Top up on the motor oil and water if required, too. Consider a self-sufficient travel companion like Uniden's Jump Start Kit. It lets drivers recharge a flat car battery, power up a variety of devices - like smartphones and tablets - and can even adjust the tyre pressure.

Keep an eye on petrol levels and take note of signs along the side of the road indicating the driving distance to the next petrol stop. This is particularly important in regional locations where there are significant distances between petrol stations.

When travelling in a group with multiple vehicles, it's easy to become separated from other parties. It may be worthwhile considering a UHF 2-way radio for adventures in remote areas, as these devices are one of the most reliable ways of communicating in locations with little to no mobile phone coverage.

With access to 80 UHF channels, extensive battery life of up to 21 hours of talk time and a convenient USB cable for recharging on-the-go, the UH810S are a must-have travel companion. It also communicates over a wide distance of 13 kilometres to ensure that, if parties become separated, they can easily relocate one another.

Adequately planning and ensuring all safety elements are covered is critical for any travel itinerary. Keep a checklist for future adventures to make each journey memorable for all the right reasons.
