What Antenna is Right For You?

Where you mount your antenna and the terrain where you are traveling in your vehicle are the two main factors when selecting the correct Uniden Antenna for your vehicle.

The 6dBi Antennas
are the most common due to their all round performance and adaptability for multiple environments including

suburban areas and larger rural towns.

The 3dBi Antennas has a wide pattern ideal for city driving where there is a lot of buildings and obstacles. Also ideal for heavy forests and hilly country.

While 9dBi Antennas are designed for flatter terrain and can achieve the longest range possible. These are not ideal where there are tall obstacles such as trees, hills or buildings in the signal path.
